

Maggi is a family doctor who engages her audiences in highly interactive presentations. Her authenticity and ability to communicate and connect emotionally with her audience through storytelling – combined with just enough humor – result in rave reviews and standing ovations. She embodies a warm, sincere approach in sharing lessons learned as she guides you in creating your own Leadership Expedition.

“You are one of the most inspirational and genuine people I have ever met. I am so impressed and appreciative of the time you devoted to preparing for our event.”

Lisa Ann Mathews, Director of Business Development, Berkeley Research Group, LLC & Women in Healthcare Leadership Chair, 2014

- Executive Coach and Consultant for Leaders in Health Care
- Keynote Speaker
- Adjunct Faculty, Georgetown University School of Medicine

“I felt engaged by listening to others’ stories and hearing their vulnerability. It felt easy to connect with them and affirmed that I’m not alone in the challenges or struggles I face.”

– Workshop participant, Innovative Leaders Series, UC Berkeley School of Public Health

“I was engaged from the beginning. Listening to Maggi tell her story made me feel involved. She’s funny and brilliant. The whole morning just flew by.” – Participant, National Chaplains Center annual leadership training conference, Veterans Health Administration

Presentation and Workshop Topics

Transform Your Career into Your Leadership Expedition

Learn from the curves, mountains, and valleys of your career to create your straight-line Leadership Expedition.

Get to the Heart of the Matter: Lead with Questions

How a coaching approach to Leadership expands your influence, adds to your knowledge, and increases satisfaction.

Engage Your Audience – The Art of Connecting with Storytelling

Our brains are wired for story. Learn how to use storytelling to encourage your audience to lean forward, to listen rather than focus on email.

Connect with Maggi today about speaking for your organization. Maggi’s presentations are tailored to your group’s needs and time frames.

“Excellent listener. Knows when to push back and when to be supportive.”

– Chair, Emergency Department at Academic Medical Center

One great presentation can be the next step in your Leadership Expedition.

About Maggi

Maggi is a doctor's doctor with a physician's mind and a friend's heart. As an executive coach she blends a scientist's thinking with empathy. She is a ferocious learner and serial focuser with a lifelong passion for sharing what she's learned. She is an inspirational motivator, occasional humorist, and excellent listener and storyteller. She is internationally known as an engaging speaker who translates the latest research in leadership development to entertaining and highly interactive presentations. She is an author, trainer, facilitator, and teacher (Georgetown University School of Medicine).

In fourth grade Maggi decided to become a family physician in a small town. Not only did she do that, she went on to get involved in nearly every aspect of health care:

- Physician in private practice and co-director of an emergency department
- Turnaround consultant – in 90 days took a clinic from three years of losing money to turning a profit
- SVP and employee number 6 at Acueity, a medical device startup
- Medical director of Vox Medica, $200M/year medical communications company
- Co-author of a seminal text in health care information technology, Telemedicine and Telehealth: Principles, Policies, Performance and Pitfalls
- Senior executive at the US Department of Health and Human Services in President Clinton's administration
- Intrapreneur at the Veterans Health Administration, creating and directing programs in physician leadership development, medical technology assessment, and Medicare Advantage

As a credentialed and certified (PCC) Executive Coach, she practices goal-directed, evidence-based executive coaching for healthcare leaders in private industry, medical centers, professional associations, and research organizations. She has spoken at the Women in Healthcare Leadership Summit, Dubai Medical College's annual ATHAR conference, Dubai Hospital, Georgetown University School of Medicine, MedStar's Innovations Conference, the Harvard Macy Institute, the University of California, Berkeley School of Public Health, Health 2.0, the UK's National Health Service, Peking Union Medical College, University of Massachusetts, Mayo Clinic, and the California Telehealth and Telemedicine Center (now California Telehealth Resource Center).

Connect With & Book Maggi

-  +1 202-403-1966
-  medleadership@gmail.com
-  margaretcary
-  @Boundroid
-  @AnatomyGoodDoc
-  /theanatomyofagooddoctor

Coaching Client Results

- Coached clinically gifted specialist surgeon after unacceptable staff evaluations, improving his post-coaching 360 assessments by 53% and saving his job
- Coached acting chair of university-affiliated specialty group to be a more effective collaborator with the nurse executive, leading to his promotion to department chair
- Coached nurse Chief Operating Officer going through transition into her next position
- Facilitated surgery department strategic planning retreat, incorporating results into coaching goals and achieving buy-in from all participants